ADVERTISING THE WAR CRISIS

Toronto News. "The chorus in Canadian politics proceeds mainly from public subsidence. The great newspapers and the great magazines turn the party managers and the politicians into the political managers."

During the late session of the Dominion Parliament the Government which the News supports handed out fifteen millions in subsidies to one railway corporation. The News has treated with a shrewd suspicion as to where some of the fifteen millions went, and as to how that portion will be used when the Government needs votes. Its observation may be taken as something in the nature of an official announcement to the personally interested that the Government's hand will have the goods, and will not fail to deliver them in return for properly marked ballots. Coming at a time of unusually scarce money, the assurance will no doubt be doubly welcome in the quarters where such advertisements carry weight.

WAKING UP.

The publicity that has been given by the Bulletin to the continuous series of hold-ups and burglaries, and to the apparent inability of the police department to cope with the situation, is bearing fruit.

An investigation is being made as to the working of the police department. It is needed. There are a hundred names on the pay-roll of that department. Yet during the spring and summer the pickpocket, the burglar and the hold-up man have had the run of the city, have robbed people on the streets and in their homes and in business places with impunity, and that has amounted to defiance of the law, and has been made to justice.

That has not been because the police force is not large enough, neither is it because there are not men of brains and experience in the force. But something is wrong, something is the something has paralyzed the effectiveness of the organization and left the public at the mercy of the thieves. It may have been that the disposition was to round up the men available, or that there is lacking the co-operation between members of the force which is necessary to efficiency, or both. Whichever, or whatever, it has been should be found out, and removed.

Meantime, there are signs of awakening activity in the quarters. That will be bad news to the crooks, and correspondingly welcome intelligence to the public. The force is big enough, the money enough to round up these bandits who have been preying on the community, if really put on the job in the proper manner. It will not require the aid of many of the fraternity to frighten the others and check the epidemic. That is the object immediately necessary, and one that should be attained without waiting the results of the investigation and the shifting and reorganization which usually follow such inquiry. All that is required is to stop the depredations is a little "ginger" on the part of the department.

What reinforcements may be necessary to accomplish other objects or to assure a continuance of efficiency are matters for future consideration, in the light of what may be learned in the inquiry. The point to be gained at the moment is to break up the systematic and continuous campaign of robbery that has been going on. Our effective move in that direction would be to shift a dozen or so more of the men onto night duty. A detachment of the detective squadron might also with advantage be put in uniform and allowed to do sentry go in the long stilly watches. Thieves love darkness rather than light. Those whose business it is to catch thieves should be more numerous on the streets at night than there is need of their being in the daytime.

CASTRO AND CANADA.

As though Mexico were not furnishing President Wilson with trouble enough, ex-President Castro is trying to re-instate himself as dictator of Venezuela. And from the reports he seems to have a fair chance of doing it.

Castro's chief claim to distinction as President was the bland impudence with which he repudiated debts due from money-lenders. The result of this high-handed sort of business was that the Venezuelan ports were for one time blockaded by British and American cruisers, and at another time by Dutch gunboats.

In his repudiation of debts the President showed no discrimination, and treated American interests with quite as little regard as he did those of Europeans. The result of this was that the United States did not re-assess the Monroe Doctrine as a basis of action when European gunboats were blockading Venezuelan harbors.

Since the departure of Castro for Europe in 1910 the world has heard comparatively little of the turbulent republic. That probably means that Castro's successor has not followed Castro's methods in dealing with foreigners, and that there has been less occasion to take heed of his doings. That was a change long due, and a condition it would be well for the Venezuelans to perpetuate.

The new President's mistake seems to have been one common to successful leaders in the Latin republics. These commonly make the mistake of being too friendly to opponents that the latter feel the country. In time the exiles come to be numerous enough in the surrounding states to make the nucleus of a pretty respectable invading army. Castro's successor seems to have sent an unusually large number of his loving subjects over the border, and they return, armed and angry, proportionately likely to make trouble for him.

Whatever the Venezuelans may think of the return of their late ruler, those who have to make the newspapers of the world will look in that direction for material with which to fill the columns that in recent months have been occupied by reports of slaughter in the Balkans. His operations will also have an interest for the government, for he is a man of other powers which remember him as a maker of plentiful trouble in the days of his former glory and arrogance.

Britishers will be interested for another reason. British Guiana adjoins Venezuela on the east. The boundary was long a matter of dispute, and once brought the United States and Britain into the most hostile relations they have known within the memory of the present generation. British rulers will no doubt be sent to the Guiana coast to see that the belligerent factions confine their activities to their proper sphere of operation. A fairly large force is being sent to the Guiana coast trying to develop trade with the West Indies this is a service which Canadian cruisers might undertake with advantage, since to Canada and to the Empire—if we had the cruisers.

Chicago Wind Storm.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—Part of the fence of Chicago National League baseball park was blown down here today by an electric storm that swept over the city at midnight. The fence carried down trees and telephone wires and the wreckage took fire from showers of lightning. Much damage was caused by lightning and by flooding of down town basements.

Meighen Will Move.

Winnipeg, Man. Aug. 8.—The Free Press has learned that Mr. Meighen will move to Winnipeg.

Mr. Meighen is a member of the Manitoba House of Commons, and is preparing to move to Moose Jaw. He has been appointed auditor general in the province, and will continue to be a member of the Manitoba House of Commons.

Remarked on the Side

Nobody will care to dispute Lord Strathcona's opinion that Canada has everything required to make a great nation. Even a Tory government would help in a good deal by showing how things should be done.

The train on which President Wilson's special envoy set out for Mexico was delayed. This looks like a bad omen, but even the most superstitious will admit that it was not quite such an unlucky omen as falling off a three-story roof on a Friday.

An actress vouchsafed the statement for which the public were perhaps not altogether unprepared that even one of the successful artist in studio, and nothing is so hard to do as to prevent people from falling in love with affected courtesans, which actors are not confined to the stage.

The Minister of Labor, after explaining the engagement of American workmen on the foundations of the new Customs building at Ottawa, stated that it will be difficult to find in Canada men of sufficient experience to lay foundations whose firm and solid character in the rock was necessary for future solidity and safety. That sounds exceedingly odd, coming from one of a bunch of emergency managers who are busy pre-tending to build national prosperity on one moving sand of Protection.

The wife of President Wilson is said to be a pastmistress in use art of cooking and one writer declares that her "angel cakes" are without an equal. The President himself, on the other hand, is supposed to be a culinary expert in another direction, having been called on to cook for the guests of his ability to cook the monopolist goose.

A writer of black notes says that a fine weather and still your hair continues to fall, go to a scalp specialist, and by using specialities, a man can get his hair back again. The doctor who specializes in diseases of the scalp. The other kind of specialist, which it is doubtful is intended to warn the reader against, is most likely to be found on some Canadian reservation.

SOUTH SIDE MARKET.

RED BOX DID NOT

DEFAULT GAME

Through a misunderstanding the Red Sox were reported in yesterday's Bulletin as having defaulted a game to the Olympics on Thursday night in the senior city baseball league. Manager Bailey's boys are still very much in the running and believe they have an excellent chance of beating out the Blue Labels for the championship. A private arrangement was reached between the two captains and the president of the league to call off Thursday night's scheduled Red Sox-Olympic game and it was decided to play it next week.

DOB DIBBLE SHINES AT BOSTON MEET

Canadian Sculling Champion Wins Heat in Easy Fashion at Regatta

By Bulletin Leased Wire.
Boston, Mass., Aug. 8.—American and Canadian scullers staged a memorable race at the annual regatta of the National Association of Amateur Scullers, held in the Charles River Basin, Toronto carried off the chief honors for the visitors from across the border, the British sculler falling to win a prize.

Chief interest centered in the two first heats of the Association Regatta. R. Dibble, the sensational sculler from the Don Rowing Club, of Toronto, and J. R. Kelly, of the Vesper Boat Club, Philadelphia, each won his heat in easy fashion. Dibble was considerably faster than that of his American rival, although the Toronto man did not appear to exert himself until he entered the last quarter. He is generally considered the favorite for tomorrow's final. The winner of this event will be entitled to compete later in the day in the championship singles, which carries with it the amateur championship of the country.

Dibble, besides winning his heat in the Association singles, also won the quarter mile championship in which he and his Toronto rival, Butler, rowed with their shells lapped all the way. Dibble retained a slight advantage gained at the start, finishing in 1:14 seconds ahead of Butler.

Wallie Smith, the star member of Carl Carney's 1910 aggregation who went from the city to St. Louis, but who was sold to Atlanta of the Southwestern League, is to go back to the show next season. He has been purchased by the Boston Braves—Cubs' Alberts.

McCAULEY CHAMPIONS OF NORTHERN SECTION

Through sunshine and rain, holidays and other interruptions, the Greater Edmonton Boys' Baseball league has been brought to its final stages, by defeating No. 11 (McCauley) becomes the winners of the northern section of the league. On the south side District 1 tied 2 are tied for the championship and will play off on the first evening weather permits. The league will then take a holiday during exhibition week and a series of three games to settle the championship between the north and south side will be played the week following.

The final game for north side honors presented a very fine struggle between the boys of McCauley and Norwood districts. The game, which was to have been seven innings, was tied at the finish of the seventh, the score being seven all. Although it was late and rather dark both teams decided to play another inning to settle the championship. In the eighth inning No. 2 team (McCauley) succeeded in scoring three runs to their opponents one, thus winning the game. An incident of good sportsmanship was displayed in the sixth inning when the score was tied. With a man on first, and a man on second, Scotty Thompson put over three strikes on the batter but the catcher dropped the ball, playing it to third, who threw to second, and then to first, getting the runners in each case before they arrived at the sack. The umpire was in doubt but called it three outs, while Scotty was on the side that would gain by the decision, declared it was only two out, and was willing to go ahead and put another man out, thus risking the loss of the game.

INSPECTOR OF DEPARTMENTS ENGAGED MAKING REPORT ON POLICE ORGANIZATION

Mayor Short States That Inspector's Report Will be Made Public When Completed—Chief Carpenter Declares That He Will Not Resign and is Defended in Statement Issued by the Mayor.

Chief of Police Carpenter when interviewed yesterday the allegations of slowness and inefficiency in the police department, referred inquiries to Mayor Short. To the question whether he had any intention of resigning the chief replied, "Certainly not." He stated that any reply he had to make to the charges contained in the article printed in yesterday's edition of the Bulletin would be made to the mayor, which was, he thought, the proper quarter for such reply.

Chief Carpenter Confers With Mayor.

In response to a telephone call from the mayor, Chief of Police Carpenter visited the mayor's office yesterday and held a consultation. The charges to which publication has been given have aroused a good deal of excitement around the police headquarters and formed the sole topic of conversation yesterday.

I cannot understand how such a report should get abroad, except through the office of the chief of police. Among other members of the force there was no feeling of suspicion that some member had been "blowing" on his commander.

Will be Made Public.

The report is too grave, said the mayor, when asked if a police investigation would be held. Later in a typewritten statement issued to the press, Mayor Short denied that an investigation had been ordered, telling the staff that has been done is that an inspector of departments is making a report on the organization, which, in due course, will be given to the public.

Report Exaggerated.

Mayor Short expresses the opinion that the investigation conducted by the inspector is a mere scare campaign and that the chief of police has not made any statement for the reception of the results of the investigation, which are expected to be made on the 15th of the month. Nevertheless, the statement said, "It may be well to warn the citizens at large that it is necessary for them to take every precaution at this time, because of the fact that all large gatherings are attended by crowds of spectators and their kind."

Chief Contemplates.

ATHABASCA BALLOT BOXES ARE SAFE

Bulletin Special.

Albion, Aug. 8.—The rumor that the ballot-boxes containing the votes cast in the recent election were destroyed in the fire of Tuesday last is unfounded. All the ballot-boxes were saved.

The exact loss which will be sustained by the merchants and property-owners of the city is not known, as the insurance underwriters have not yet set an adjuster.

TIMES JUSTIFIES BORROWINGS OF WESTERN CITIES

Says It May Be Better Business to Pay Interest Than to Have Unpaid Streets

London, Aug. 8.—The Times is publishing a series of articles on Canadian borrowings. The writers' conclusions appear reassuring. He declares that the expenditure has generally been economical and well directed, and he does not think Canada is unduly burdened with railway enterprises.

Talking on municipalities the writer says: "The question often heard recently is: Have not the Canadian municipalities been extravagant? The answer must be given that they have been extremely particular in the West, to this extent, that they have provided themselves and inhabitants with sewerage with more consideration than in the East, and in other places and it may be better advised to borrow to make and to pay interest on a sinking fund over a term of years rather than to spread the expenditure over the same term of years by making it out of rates and doing with partially paved streets."

"It is largely a question of cost of money and Canadian municipalities have been able to build recently to just money very cheaply. No doubt every money market is very volatile and the tendency has been to undertake improvements, too hastily and to charge too much against capital account. This tendency will be corrected by the present difficulty in raising fresh loans. Meanwhile Canadian towns have had their money chosen and interest and sinking funds, which they will have to pay in charges on their new improvements, are proportionately low."

London, Aug. 8.—The Times is publishing a series of articles on Canadian borrowings. The writers' conclusions appear reassuring. He declares that the expenditure has generally been economical and well directed, and he does not think Canada is unduly burdened with railway enterprises.

Talking on municipalities the writer says: "The question often heard recently is: Have not the Canadian municipalities been extravagant? The answer must be given that they have been extremely particular in the West, to this extent, that they have provided themselves and inhabitants with sewerage with more consideration than in the East, and in other places and it may be better advised to borrow to make and to pay interest on a sinking fund over a term of years rather than to spread the expenditure over the same term of years by making it out of rates and doing with partially paved streets."

"It is largely a question of cost of money and Canadian municipalities have been able to build recently to just money very cheaply. No doubt every money market is very volatile and the tendency has been to undertake improvements, too hastily and to charge too much against capital account. This tendency will be corrected by the present difficulty in raising fresh loans. Meanwhile Canadian towns have had their money chosen and interest and sinking funds, which they will have to pay in charges on their new improvements, are proportionately low."

Armies Of The World Will Be Shown At Grand Military Tattoo

Impressive and Magnificent Spectacle Is Promised at Exhibition Next Week—Seaforth Highlanders of Vancouver Will Add to the Skill of the Local Police Band

Following the unprecedented popular enthusiasm with which the grand military tattoo was received last year it has been decided to repeat it this year at the Edmonton exhibition with added new features. Two of which will be the introduction of the Edmonton Police band and the 72nd Seaforth Highlanders of Vancouver, which is composed of four regiments, and is one of the best military organizations in the world.

The uniforms of the armies of the world, flying the national standards of their nations will be represented. These bands will be accompanied by more than 200 torch bearers, marching and counter-marching to the beat of the drum, playing the national airs of their own countries, and will make a magnificent and brilliant spectacle.

D. C. Ross of Toronto, who conducted the military tattoo last year, will be in charge of the exhibition, and who conducted the tattoo last season, has again been engaged to organize and conduct it this year. Mr. Ross has been a military man for twenty years, and has been awarded several medals and orders for his services in the field, and has been a member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.
